SUMMARY

8th year running back who spent 2018 as his first season in Jeremy Bates hybrid run scheme where he was asked to execute Zone and Gap runs as well as catch the ball out of the backfield as a member of a committee. Possesses a lean and muscular frame with average measurables and good athletic ability with good lateral agility and change of direction skills, solid balance, and adequate explosiveness. Good mental processing to recognize defensive fronts and prospective rushing lanes pre-snap. Good competitive toughness on display with a raised desire in the red zone and aggression through contact. Good post-snap vision on Outside Zone runs, recognizing defensive front movement and reading bounce/bang/bend, with patience to allow blocks to develop before planting and getting upfield. Very good post-snap tempo and vision on Powers and Counters, allowing pulling blockers to locate and execute on their targets with patience and cutting tightly off their hips. Very good decision making and processing skills post-snap, with a natural anticipation of holes that are yet to be made and feel for defenders leverage with an ability to chain lateral cuts together, due to fluid hips and good lateral agility, to force defenders to overcommit before hitting his hole. Good burst through his hole, with an ability to take a hard plant step and make a vertical cut to hit a 2nd gear to get into the 2nd level. Very good route runner out of the backfield, with a good feel for Zone coverage which allows him to slide to open space as the check down receiver and a solid ability to read defenders leverage on Option routes and take advantage. Very good receiver, with an ability to adjust to off-target balls outside his frame, make the catch with soft hands, and naturally gather the football to his frame and solid ability after the catch to get upfield and take advantage of defenders leverage in open space. Solid ability to generate yards after contact in the open field and at the 2nd level due to lateral agility, ability to time his launch forward at the point of contact to fall forward, and low pad level which all make it hard for defenders to land a solid hit. Very good pass protector, with a fearless demeanor to meet rushers halfway as opposed to sitting on his heels and the ability to cut blitzing linebackers below the waist. Adequate downfield burst makes him unable to truly run away from defenders or hit home runs. Marginal ability to produce yards after contact at the LOS due to slight frame, adequate play strength, and minimal leg drive, making it easy for defenders to cut him down with arm tackles and make him a noncandidate to break tackles. Marginal ball security due to adequate functional strength and frame make him susceptible to punches and rips from 2nd defenders when held up. Overall, he is a rotational running back capable of succeeding in a primarily 3rd down role due to his receiving ability, vision, and pass protection skills. Can succeed in any run scheme, and would be best suited for a passing scheme that allows him to leverage Option routes out of the backfield and catch screens. Limited ability to break tackles, marginal ball security, and lack of top end speed make him a noncandidate for a true 3 down role.
