SUMMARY

3rd year C starting 49 of 49 games in his career and 17 of 17 games in his first season under HC Matt Nagy and OL Coach Harry Hiestand featured as the tough and durable centerpiece of the offensive line unit in a balanced West Coast offense featuring Zone-Read plays, quick passes, and heavy play action. Very good height, weight, and hand size with good arm length featuring a barrel-like torso and thick, powerful legs. Good AA from very good balance/quickness/acceleration, good explosiveness/agility, and adequate COD. Pre-snap shows good mental processing, identifying the "Mike" and adjusting protection. Very good pass pro facing 0 or 1 Techs with very good quickness out of stance, getting hands in position. Very good UOH with very good punch to stun, placement to control with very good hand strength, and timing to play long against very good DLs of all sizes. Very good mental processing/quickness/foot speed, and good agility in pass pro when uncovered using drag arm to feel 3 Tech on near guard while identifying and picking up stunts/twists, addressed quickly with agility/foot speed, completely impeding DLs. Good anchor via very good play strength/pad level/balance to win at or near LOS. Very good Gap blocker with very good footwork off the ball to get in position, quick hand placement on breastplate on attack step, good explosive attack step in Base block. In Base/DBL blocks, very good push with very good play strength and competitive toughness at POA finishing with torque against DL of all sizes. Good foot speed and very good mental processing in Pulls for Power/Counter to wall off/drive off defenders including DLs and LBs with good AA. Very good Zone blocks with good explosion, very good play strength/UOH off the snap to engage Combo blocks, patiently sealing the DT to the guard applying force to DTs hips. Engaging 2nd level blocks for Zone, very good mental processing/quickness and good foot speed/explosiveness at good angles to engage LBs/DBs including lighter, quicker defenders. Good Reach/Scoop blocks in Zone blocks with very good balance/quickness and good foot speed to gain leverage against LBs/DBs with solid AA. Very good competitive toughness, physical and mental, overall shown in restrained nastiness, playing tough with consistent finish, avoiding penalties, and after plays has positive body language with shoulders back, head up. In pass pro, adequate ability to fight off defenders hands despite own UOH turns pass pro snaps against top-end DTs into a street fight vs longer/stronger DTs, resulting in elevated pad level, lunging and stumbling out of position. In all Zone blocking, adequate COD in space illuminates struggles against LBs/DBs with good AA capping scoop block ability from its potential. In the NFL, he is a starting Center you can win because of; a stabilizing force as the center of the line will maintain the depth of the pocket. His play allows versatility in an offensive scheme to shift the run/pass balance or passing game depth at will, utilizing his AA, mental processing, play strength, and foot speed to maximize the run game or attack all depths of the field through the air.
