SUMMARY

7th year Pro who was an undrafted free agent in 2011 when he signed with the Cleveland Browns. 2nd season with the New Orleans saints and Defensive Coordinator Dennis Allen who runs a 4-3 scheme using Robertson as an ILB where he does a good job defending both the run and pass. Adequate height, solid weight with a stout build. Good athletic ability displaying good quickness, agility, balance, acceleration, explosiveness and COD. As a defensive captain, he does a good job-helping put his team in the right defense pre snap. Good vs. run at the POA displaying his good mental processing to K&D fast, read the offensive linemen and see the mesh point. He is downhill in a hurry with the agility to sort through traffic and the COD to bend and dip underneath blocks while maintaining his gap responsibly. Very good play strength to engage and shed the block of all TEs and good offensive linemen with a good burst to meet the running back in the hole and consistently make the tackle. Good vs. outside run with very good ability to flow while he keeps his gap integrity using long arm technique to keep the offensive linemen from getting into his chest plate. Displays the agility to get through traffic and the quickness and acceleration to scrape and beat good offensive linemen to the spot forcing the runner to cut back into traffic. Good range with the footspeed and mental processing to play sideline to sideline. Good competitive toughness competing vs. all competition and displaying his physical toughness taking on blocks downhill without stopping his feet. Good motor, not giving up on the play making a come from behind ankle tackle to save a TD. Against the pass, he has solid zone awareness dropping to a spot with his eyes on the QB where he does a good job playing the passing lanes and shows the peripheral vision to see crossing routes coming. He is physical in his reroutes while maintaining his drop and has the mental processing to trade off crossing routes as he keeps the pass catchers underneath him and rallies to the ball to make the tackle. Displays the footspeed to run down the middle of the field with a good slot WR in a Tampa 2 look. Good in Man coverage where he showed his athletic ability and physicality to get hands on good TEs, mirror and stay in the hip pocket. Does a good job staying with solid running backs out of the backfield on shake routes and has the play speed to run down the seam with solid WRs. Good ball skills playing the passing lanes as he reads the QBs eyes to get PBUs and shows solid range while the ball is in the air. Solid pass rush ability where he shows his explosiveness and agility to put pressure on the quarterback and good timing when blitzing to make a play on the quarterback. Because he is so aggressive towards the run, he is susceptible to PA on early downs where he loses site of his assignment. Late crossing routes give him trouble because he is so locked into the quarterback attempting the play the passing lane. His timing to jump the crossing route causes him to be there late when the ball is in the air preventing him from getting more PBU. Overall, he is a good starting inside linebacker that you can win with who fits a 4-3 scheme. He can help you in both the run and the pass. Loses site of his assignment in zone coverage because of his aggressive nature towards the run.
