SUMMARY

Fifth year WR who has started 34 of 58 career games, joined the Colts in Week 7 of 2018 as a street free agent playing X and Slot in OC Nick Sirianni's Air Coryell passing offense. Slender body with very good height and adequate weight, adequate AA displaying solid quickness, balance and agility, adequate acceleration, long speed and sharp COD. Good releases vs. Press using quick feet to keep his frame clean, able to enter and maintain his stem under DC pressure with solid balance through contact. Demonstrates good mental processing in his route, locates voids in Zone coverage at the intermediate level and presents a target once he reaches them, good timing on Rub concepts vs. Man, recognizes when he is being covered by LB and leverages speed advantage. Good play strength to fight through DB at the move point and uncover on short routes. Solid separation quickness, good on double moves from the slot where he sells a speed cut into the DB's leverage with his head and shoulders then continues upfield, draws desperation penalty or breaks away cleanly. Good hands, consistently catches away from his body when both moving and stationary, secures the ball to the ground while uncovered along the boundary plus on low passes, solid at tracking and running under deep throws. Good adjust/body control, maintains concentration while along the boundary and makes sure to get a knee down inbounds, reacts quickly to low passes displaying the ability to catch while bending/falling, expands beyond his frame to bring in high and outside throw while working MOF. Will do enough to win with size as a blocker vs timid DBs, flashes solid processing on Stalk-Crack to locate DS. Displays solid competitive toughness, remains composed as a stagnant target vs. Zone with defenders closing on him, bounces right back up after taking a hard collision. When facing Off coverage, struggles to threaten DB's cushion with adequate acceleration, does not manipulate DB's hips in his stem. Upright as a route runner with adequate burst out of his breaks, has trouble winning vertically on the outside track due to adequate long speed. Adequate YAC, as a ball carrier has trouble eluding DBs and gets stood up on first contact by DB/LB, unable to run through attempted tackles or finish with power. Rarely the aggressor as a blocker, good run support DBs will get in his kitchen with heavy hands. Overall, a role player you can win with leveraging his play strength and catch radius in the short areas at X or Z as well as on shot plays involving double moves from the Slot. Lacks the route running nuance and long speed to consistently separate downfield vs. outside Man coverage.
