--------------	--

BEST	Separation vs LBs in tight Man Coverage, Competitive Toughness, Quickness to Earn Leverage in Run Blocking, Versatility as an All-Around TE

WORST	Making Defenders Miss in Space to gain Yards After Catch, Maintaining Blocks when he gives up his Chest, Anchor where his feet work independently
-------	---

PROJECTION	Starting Y TE who can line up all over that you can win with who is proficient in all areas but does not have any elite traits. At his best when he can face off against LBs in Man coverage and use his competitive toughness as a run blocker and to fight for extra yards after the catch. Struggles to make defenders miss in space and completely loses his ability to block when he gives up his chest and defenders can pull him forward.

SUMMARY

6th year TE who has started 43 of 89 career games played including 6 of 6 games played in 2018 for the Indianapolis Colts. Played all 6 NFL season with the Colts with 2018 his first season under HC Frank Reich and OC Nick Sirianni. Under Reich and Sirianni, the Colts run a West Coast offense with heavy usage of 11, 12 and 13 personnel and utilizes mostly Gap scheme running but also incorporates Zone scheme runs. Primarily used as an in-line Y TE and lined up in the slot as a receiver but was also used split out wide, used on the wing and lined up as a FB. Very good height and weight, adequate arm length and solid hand size with a strong and bulky build, thick lower body and even weight distribution. Solid athletic ability with good quickness and COD with solid agility, balance, acceleration and explosiveness. Good release from both 2pt and 3pt stance vs Off and Soft coverage where he uses his good quickness and good mental processing to earn leverage against defenders and work into his stem. Good release vs Press (Jam) when he can chop/swipe by Jam attempt to defeat hands and work into his stem. Good separation quickness vs Man and Zone coverage that he earns with good mental processing to identify coverage and exploit voids, quickness, COD and head/shoulder/foot fakes to earn leverage and separation. Very good separation quickness vs Man coverage when lined up vs a LB where he can use his good mental processing and head/shoulder/foot fakes to freeze or manipulate LBs to earn separation vs tight coverage. Solid hands overall with the ability to adjust over his head and outside of his frame above his waist with solid body control on the boundaries. Very good ability to fight through contact and gain positive yards after the catch. Good quickness off the snap in both 2pt and 3pt stance on both Zone and Gap blocks to earn leverage by getting his hands on his defender and work his lower body in a position to gain leverage and maintain the block early off the snap. Good ability as a Zone blocker due to good lateral quickness and mental awareness to identify what leverage he needs to engage his blocks and maintain with good footwork and solid balance and UOH. Good ability to Combo block at the 1st level where he displays good aiming points to attack the sides of defenders to stymie defenders with his teammates and good ability to maintain with good play strength to take over the block when a teammate works off. Solid ability to work of Combo blocks to the 2nd level where he displays good rhythm to work off and move to the next defender and identify his next assignment and engage. Good ability to block on screens when he is lined up as a receiver where he is in close proximity to a defender to engage. Solid ability to block on Screens when he is lined up at the Y where he has to travel to find a defender to block and drive away from the ball carrier. Good playside Gap blocker due to good play strength, competitive toughness, and mental processing to identify, engage properly and steer defenders away. Solid in Pass Pro with solid set quickness out of both 2pt and 3pt stance to intersect rushers, solid UOH to engage with good quickness and footwork to mirror pass rushers. Solid mental processing to identify and adjust to stunts/twists in Pass Pro. Adequate release vs Press (Jam) when defenders can lock in Jam attempt inside the body and he tries to fight through physically without using his hands. Adequate ability to make defenders miss in the open field due to average AA. Marginal ability to maintain blocks on both Run Blocks and Pass Pro when he gives up his chest and defenders can grab his jersey and pull through to completely defeat his block. Adequate ability to Zone block in the 2nd level when he has to travel a longer distance to engage his defender to block because he has trouble changing his angle to engage when defenders move around to avoid him. Marginal anchor due to his feet working independently from one another which does not allow him to root his feet forcing him to lose ground consistently. In the NFL, Starting Y TE who can line up all over that you can win with who is proficient in all areas but does not have any elite traits. At his best when he can face off against LBs in Man coverage and use his competitive toughness as a run blocker and to fight for extra yards after the catch. Struggles to make defenders miss in space and completely loses his ability to block when he gives up his chest and defenders can pull him forward.
