SUMMARY

6th year pro who signed a 1 year free agent deal with the Jaguars after spending his first 5 years with the New York Giants. Started 57 of the 69 games he played in his career including 12 of the 14 games he played in with the Jaguars. Has an extensive injury history having suffered a foot fracture, torn biceps and a concussion while with the Giants along with pectoral, hamstring, groin injuries. Missed 2 games due to a hamstring injury with the Jaguars. Played mostly RDC and LDC in Gus Bradley's Cover 1/3 heavy scheme, generally matching up with the #2 receiver. Has a lean body with very good height and weight and adequate arm length. Possesses good athletic ability with good long speed, quickness, agility and burst, solid COD and adequate balance. Displays good LOS skills, showing good play strength in rerouting receivers with his hands and displaying patient footwork to stay square and trail all but very good receivers off their release. Possesses very good Trail Coverage ability using his good play strength and competitive toughness to play physically with receivers of all sizes and uses his speed, quickness and solid COD ability to effectively mirror receivers with good route running ability. Shows good mental processing ability identifying double moves and stays with his man. Possesses fluid hips and good long speed to transition and run with receivers rarely allowing separation on deep routes when playing trail, off-man and deep third zone coverage. Displays good mental processing ability when playing underneath zone coverage, recognizes route combinations and shows good timing in passing off receivers to teammates' zone and works downfield using his quickness and burst. Shows very good open field tackling displaying good mental processing ability to take good angles to the ball and good technique to make wrap tackles showing good play strength. Does not hesitate to make big hits with his shoulders to bigger receivers and tight ends showing very good competitive toughness. Shows solid ability in attacking gaps and working around bigger blockers using his quickness to get to the ball carrier in run plays. Rarely shows an effort to get involved on runs not coming his way and puts in little effort to disengage from WR blocks showing adequate competitive toughness and play strength vs run plays and is only adequate in run support. Possesses adequate ball skills; shows solid ability to locate the ball but displays adequate play strength to fight through the receiver and marginal timing in his jump to make a play on the ball. Plays with too much cushion when playing off-man or bail coverage and cannot transition effectively downfield due to his stiff backpedal with high pad level, open hips and adequate balance, allowing separation on shallow and intermediate routes, especially on curls and comebacks. Overall, an outside corner with good size and athletic ability possessing very good ability in trail coverage and good ability in covering vertical routes and underneath zones. Adequate in bail and off-man coverage and run support with adequate ball skills and is often injured.
