SUMMARY

3rd year linebacker who has played in 46 games including 16 starts in 2016 in defensive coordinator Todd Wash's 4-3 under scheme. A three down weak side linebacker in their base defense. Possesses very good height, marginal weight, athletic with a slim upper and lower body and good arm length. Displays elite AA overall including, very good speed, explosiveness, agility, COD and balance. Shows very good pre-snap awareness, adjusts quickly to motions and shifts and is in the proper alignment as the ball is snapped. Good mental processing versus the run, keys the the lineman to the fullback, reads the play direction and reacts with very good play speed. Displays good ability versus the run at the POA, twitched up, uses hover technique, aggressive versus zone runs, immediately inserts into his gap. Displays good ability versus outside runs, quick diagnosis and very good speed allows him to stay over the top of scooping lineman, avoid blocks while keeping leverage on the ball. Possesses good competitive toughness, visibly upset when he misses a tackle or allows a reception. Very good mental processing of screens, diagnoses the soft pass protection quickly, takes good angles to the ball often beating lineman to the spot and forces the running back inside. Utilizes very good play speed on play action passes, locates and closes on crossers in the short and intermediate range. Very good in Zone coverage, elite range, smooth back pedal and fluidity in his hips, follows quarterback's eyes, squeezes the seam while dropping, recognizes threats entering his area, keys the running back on check releases, then utilizes very good COD to plant and make the tackle. Displays very good Man coverage skills, elite AA allows him to match up versus most wide receivers and running backs and all tight ends, actively communicates with secondary, good mental processing of route combinations and receiver's stems and is rarely out of phase. Possesses good ball skills overall, utilizes his length and hands to restrict passing lanes and disrupt receivers' concentration at the catch point. Good pass rush skills as an A gap blitz, solid timing, displays good physical toughness to jam centers opening up rushing lanes for teammates, rushes with tenacity and gets his hands up to force quarterbacks to throw from different platforms. Displays adequate play strength overall, does not possess lower body power to anchor versus good offensive lineman. Adequate UOH at the POA, does not lead with his hands, struggles to stack and shed consistently, prefers to avoid or occupy lineman without making a play on the ball. Overall tackling form is adequate, tackles high when shooting gaps or meeting running backs in the hole, comes in hot on outside runs, fails to break down and make the tackle, easily avoided with sharp cuts against the grain. Can be manipulated by quarterbacks with good eye discipline. Displays adequate mental toughness and a decrease in Man coverage versus option routes by running backs with very good COD or better, falls for jabs or head fakes. Overall, is a very good starting outside linebacker who can play the bubble or stacked. Elite AA overall allows him to be successful shooting gaps, as a chase and pursue linebacker against the run and has very good abilities in Zone and Man coverage. Struggles versus power at the POA and overall tackling form is adequate which leads to a lot of missed tackles.
