SUMMARY

4th-year pro who has started 31-of-39 games w/CIN under HC Marvin Lewis and TE Coach Jonathan Hayes, 1st season under OC Ken Zampese in a spread-based offense with a primarily Gap-oriented running game that also incorporates Zone, Read-Option, and RPOs. Utilized as inline Y, H and is often split out wide or into the slot. Missed 28 career games due to injury including 8 in 2016, DNP Weeks 1-6 due to offseason ankle surgery that was delayed by a back strain, DNP Weeks 16-17 (IR) due to back injury. Possesses very good height and good weight with solid thickness and build on a well-distributed linear frame, good arm length & hand size. Good AA showing very good balance, body control & coordination with good footspeed, quickness, agility and explosiveness. Good burst off LOS from 2 or 3-point stance when given a free release, shows good foot quickness & UOH to defeat Press coverage, accelerates smoothly and has good footspeed to challenge on intermediate/deep routes. Good mental processing skills to find the seam or settle into voids vs Zone and has excellent awareness of down/distance, combines with AA for good overall play speed. Good quickness to create separation at the top of the route vs Man coverage, especially in the intermediate/deep areas of the field, good play strength as a receiver to box out & use body to shield defenders from the ball as a RZ target. Possesses very good hands and can easily extend outside his frame on the move or stationary, makes good adjustments for the ball showing very good body control and concentration, very good toughness to catch through contact. Good YAC ability, gets upfield quickly with speed to pick up extra yards, runs hard after catch showing strength to break arm tackles and can be used on TE screens. Solid Zone/Space block ability, can position and cover at 1st level when facing solid or below competition, very good AA to reach 2nd level and shows balance & quickness to engage targets square in space. Consistent and reliable when on the field and shows very good competitive toughness in both the run and pass. Adequate play strength to generate movement as an inline Gap blocker and struggles to sustain when facing good or better competition. Adequate in Pass Pro lacking play strength and pad level to anchor or sustain, lacks footwork & UOH to effectively run defenders upfield. Overall a good starting TE when healthy with very good receiving skills and versatility to be utilized as inline Y, H or split out wide or in the slot. Fits best into any system that can split him out often to create mismatches and emphasize his ability as a receiver. Durability is a major concern.
